DRP354 – 1249.00

Reduce un-sprung weight, solidify the rear suspension, and increase drag strip launch consistency in your Fifth Gen Camaro with a Drag Race Suspension Package from BMR Suspension. Manufactured from lightweight DOM steel and utilizing adjustable rod ends, these components are designed with the drag racer in mind. The BMR Drag Race Suspension Package (DRP354) includes non-adjustable lower control arms, adjustable trailing arms, a coil-over conversion kit, and a pair of Strange double adjustable coil-overs with Hyperco springs. When used in conjunction with the BMR 15" Wheel Conversion Package (BCP001), you can expect the weight of your Camaro to drop 74 pounds. This package also allows the racer to use 15" Weld Racing rims when combined with part number BCP001. BMR has designed the DRP354 for drag racing applications. Available in black hammertone and red powdercoat for long lasting good looks. Installation time is 4-5 hours. Proudly made in the U.S.A.
